

Summer heliskiing in Chile (southern hemisphere)

Do you miss mountain landscapes and powder snow in the summer? The southern hemisphere has what you are looking for! Chile, located in South America in the middle of the Andes, is our favorite destination for summer skiing.

Working closely with Powder South based in Santiago which has the best heliskiing operation in South America.

The El Ingenio lodge situated 1h30 away from Santiago offers great comfort in an idyllic and restful setting. From here, numerous heliskiing possibilities exist in the heart of one of the largest and highest mountain landscapes of the world.
